DETAILED ACTION

1. Acknowledgement is made of amendment filed 10/22/09. Upon entering the amendment, claims 1-39 are canceled and claims 40-49 are new.

Claims 40-49 are pending and presented for examination.

Response to Amendment

2. In response to the amendment filed 10/22/09 the examiner modifies the grounds for rejections.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 40-45 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Wagner et al. (US 6897073) (Wagner).

Wagner discloses a surface plasmon resonance optical sensor comprising a silica layer [0088], a thin film layer ([0056] or [0090]) and a monolayer disposed upon the thin film (Figure 2, [0103]). Further, it is disclosed that the monolayer may be a polymer [0058]. The reference additionally discloses that a fluorescent molecule may be associated with the polymer (Figure 7 (9), [0147-0148] "adapter") (claims 40-42 and 44-45). The reference further discloses a semiconductor thin film [0056] (claim 43).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

7. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

8. Claims 46-49 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wagner in view of Jenkins et al. (Analytical Communications, 1997, referenced in IDS) (Jenkins).

Wagner does not specifically disclose the polymer monolayer composition or that the fluorescent molecule is a lanthanide signal transducer.

Jenkins discloses a sensor having a polymer layer of styrene and divinylbenzene (Preparation of the Polymer, Page 222). The reference discloses that such polymers demonstrate enhanced selectivity (Preparation of the Polymer, Page 222). One having ordinary skill in the art would use the polymer of Jenkins in the sensor of Wagner as it would provide such selectivity (claim 47). The reference further discloses that the luminescent spectrum of the divinyl compound is similar to that of the dimethyl compound, and little change was noted in the spectrum (preparation of the Polymer, Page 222). With this in mind, one having ordinary skill in the art would choose to use a methacrylic acid and ethylene glycol dimethacrylate polymer interchangeably with a styrene and divinylbenzene polymer (claim 46). The reference further discloses that a lanthanide complex comprising Eu^{III} is appropriate for use with such a sensor as it has excellent spectroscopic properties (Page 221, Column 2) (claims 48-49).

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 40-49 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
